

Monthly Report – November 2007
Daniel Stefanilo, Superintendent

Overview of Activities for November 2007

- During the month, I met with Senator Richard Moore and our Grant Coordinator, Karin Knapik, to discuss a concept concerning a health clinic and an early learning center located at the Bernat Mill complex. At our last School Committee meeting, I presented to you a draft drawing of this concept.
- On November 13th, I attended a “Mix It Up” luncheon at the Taft Elementary School, with the fourth grade students. Students were randomly assigned lunch tables and sat with different students from other classrooms. It was a great social experience for all of the children.
- On November 14th, the Massachusetts School Building Authority (MSBA), came to visit the high school. John Higgins, Michael Legendre, George Zini and myself were in attendance during this visit.
- On November 16th, I attended the yearly MASC/MASS conference in Hyannis. The workshops I attended included topics relating to extended day programs, extended year programs, and school committee and superintendent partnerships. Barbara also attended this conference and participated in workshops that included Open Meeting Laws, Public Records, and Department of Education reporting.
- Administrative Team Meetings: There was one Administrative Team Meeting during the month of November. Some items of discussion included: MCAS report, professional development days, teacher workshops/conference, long-range plans for instruction review, technology, teaching and reading programs
- General Meetings: This month the general meetings included a School Committee meeting, Budget Summit meeting, and Sick Bank Committee meetings. I also met with parents from the Taft Playground Committee to discuss the future project for the Taft Elementary School playground.
- Special Functions: On November 30th, I was invited to be the “Mystery Reader for the Day” in Stephanie Davis’ second grade class.
